

Mass Tax Protests Planned

Soo Line To Keep Run Here

Trains Renumbered,
Schedule Changed,
But Continue Service

"Good" weekend residents and shopper traffic is credited with keeping passenger service in Antioch by the Soo Line says Leo Sorensen, station agent here.

Plans to drop a good number of passenger stations on the line from Duluth to Chicago were approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission recently. But the Chamber of Commerce and the Village of Antioch protested and the railroad, in checking its figures, found that the local stop did have a higher volume than many other stations.

A NEW TRAIN schedule will go into effect on Tuesday, Jan. 6 with trains arriving here from Chicago daily except Saturday at 10:57 p. m. Trains will leave for Chicago from the Antioch depot at 8:31 a. m. daily except Sunday, Sorensen said.

Train times formerly were No. 2 left Antioch at 7:05 p. m. and No. 1 left Antioch at 2:35 a. m.

The Antioch stop will be the only one between Burlington and Schiller Park on the Duluth to Chicago run of the railroad.

The trains making the local stop will also be renumbered in the move Sorensen said. Trains 17 and 18 will be discontinued and replaced with trains 3 and 4.

THE NEW SCHEDULE will be as follows:

Train No. 3, leaves Chicago daily except Saturday at 9:30 p. m., will stop at Forest Park at 9:53, Schiller Park at 10:08, Antioch, 10:57 p. m., Burlington, 11:25 and Duluth at 10:25 a. m. the next day.

Train No. 4 will leave Duluth at 9:40 p. m. daily except Saturday and will stop at Burlington at 8:02 a. m. (except Sunday), Antioch at 8:31 a. m., Schiller Park, 9:19 a. m., Forest Park, 9:35 a. m., and Chicago arrival at 10:10 a. m.

Express shipments will continue to be handled out of the Antioch depot as has been done in the past, Sorensen added.

Antioch Man Back On CPA Tax Group

George M. Horn, CPA, of Indian Point, Antioch, was reappointed to the federal taxation committee of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, it was announced by the national professional organization.

Horn, a partner in the Chicago office of the accounting firm of Harris, Kerr, Forster & Company, is a member of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce and the Illinois Society of CPAs.

The fifty-man federal taxation committee formulates recommendations to Congress for making the federal tax law more equitable and more workable.

Antioch Farm Sets Milk Production Mark

Ravenglen Farm, Antioch, has had another production record of one of its cows recognized by the Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America.

Ravenglen Lorie Triune was milked twice daily for 365 days and produced a total of 15,837 pounds of milk and 579 pounds of butterfat as a four-year-old.

A Zion farm and a Grayslake farm also received notices of production records set by cows on their farms.

3 From Area to Hear Editor at Illinois Education Meeting

Three delegates from this area will attend the 105th annual meeting of the Illinois Education Assn. in Chicago Dec. 28-30. They are Mrs. Isabel Smythe, Rt. 2, Box 570, and Walter Staugaard, Rt. 2, Box 418, both of Lake Villa; and Warren Polley, 998 Osmond St., Antioch.

Principal speaker for the meeting will be Dr. Erwin D. Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor. Problems to be taken up include needs for increased financial support for schools and supply of teachers.

PRESENTS ARE NICE but what 2-year-old Charles Louis Horton, Jr., would like most for Christmas is his daddy. With daddy in Japan with the Air Force, with a new brother to share Christmas, with snow for the first time at Christmas, this season is just a little unusual for young Chuck. Yuletide last year was spent in South Carolina with no snow. Since that time a brother, James Edward, has been added to the family, and daddy has flown away. But Mrs. Horton will try to make Christmas bright for her youngsters as she stays with the children's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Horton on Drom Ct. in Antioch. Mrs. Horton's parents are not far away either; they are Mr. and Mrs. John D. Coyne, Lake Villa.

Most Churches Plan Christmas Eve Services to Mark Holiday Season

The hustle of a year of activity will come to a close Thursday for Christmas day as the people pause to commemorate the birth of Christ.

In the lakes area, churches will be the center of attention as people lay down their cares to remember the birth of Jesus Christ almost 2,000 years ago.

There is a list of the services planned:

COMMUNITY METHODIST CHURCH Lake Villa

A candle light service will begin a musical preparation at 10:30 p. m. on Christmas Eve. A regular service at 11 p. m., with the Rev. Gerald Robinson conducting.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH Millburn

Christmas Eve candlelight service at 11 p. m. preceded by a coffee hour at 10 p. m. The choir will sing under the direction of Mrs. John Weigel. The Rev. L. H. Messersmith will conduct the services.

CHURCH Antioch

A special worship service called "The Gift of Jesus" will be given by children in the Antioch Grade School on Dec. 23 at 7:30 p. m. The Rev. R. P. Otto is pastor.

EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH Wilmet

Salem HS Vacation Began Tuesday

Students at Central High School, Salem, began their Christmas vacation Tuesday afternoon at the end of classes. The school term will not resume until Monday, Jan. 4, says A. H. Erickson, principal.

Two Christmases for Kids At Baptist Children's Home

Christmas for children at the Central Baptist Children's Home in Lake Villa will be a double holiday this year as every year. A party at the home was held last Saturday and regular Christmas day will be observed in family style.

Food, a tree and presents, all donated to the home were enjoyed by the children last Saturday with all taking part. Now the kids are scattered and living in their real or foster homes throughout the county and are preparing for Christmas on Thursday.

THE CHILDREN come from broken homes, mostly from Cook county, and really relish the chance to return to their own or go to adopted families at this season. This, even though they live daily at the home with house parents and their families.

But while the children depart for another Christmas, attention is focused on two boys who won't be going home this season. They are two Russian boys who became wards of the home a few years ago.

THEY ARE Richard and George Kozmin whose parents decided to return to Russia after being released from the Chicago State Hospital for treatment of mental disorders. The courts said the boys should stay in this country.

And so they spend their Christmas wishing for real scientific equipment while their "brothers" wish for toys and sports equipment.

Even the gala Christmas tree trimming last week was nothing special to one of the boys, says Mike Elliot, promotion director. While the other children were going about the gay custom, one of them, young George, 10, sat not 10 feet away reading up on submarines. Richard is no different. He lists electronic set and scientific thing or toy, gas engine, model airplane, radio kit, hatchet and knife set and chemistry set as his wishes for Christmas.

But Elliot doesn't believe the boys are really as electronically inclined as it appears.

"They have heard that Russians are thought of this way and so they try to act the part," he said. Underneath, they are just boys and react as such, Elliot added.

U of I Students Are Homegrown

Eighty-seven per cent of the University of Illinois students are residents of Illinois. They come from every county in the state. The remaining 13 per cent come from every state in the Union, District of Columbia and U. S. Territories and possessions, and 923 are from 71 foreign countries.

Organize for 'Legitimate' Complaints in Lake Villa

Disgruntled taxpayers in Lake Villa Township are planning a mass protest over tax evaluations with complaint signups to be held next Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The deadline for protests is Monday, Dec. 29.

The action is being initiated by the civic organizations in Venetian Village and West Milmore, but is open to all residents of the township. Signups will be Friday and Saturday, 1 to 9 p. m. and Sunday, 1 to 5 p. m. in the Civic Assn. hall at Venetian Village.

MEETING LAST Sunday night, the taxpayers group headed by George Sebela and Clarence Reed, drew up plans for the protest. Official and legal protest forms will be available at the meetings and committeemen will be present with instructions for proper completion of the forms.

Taxpayers are asked to bring their last tax receipt or the legal description of their property.

However, not all those with complaints will be allowed to sign the protests, say Sebela and Reed. They are aware that some residents are undertaxed and therefore have no complaint. The guardians of the lists will have lists of figures on fair and equalized tax rates and those who find their property undertaxed will be discouraged from signing. It is planned that only legitimate protests will be presented to the Board of Review.

"THIS IS YOUR last chance to do something about this unfair, and costly situation," Sebela and Reed said. They were pointing to the tax equalization factor which Robert Jasper, supervisor of assessments, has applied to Lake Villa property. By it, Jasper raised township taxes from an average valuation of 34 per cent made by Township Assessor Del Black, to the 55 per cent figure required by law.

In a mimeographed flyer distributed to all residents of the township, the committee said:

PROPERTY OWNERS of Venetian Village: The Lake County Supervisor of Assessments, Mr. Robert Jasper, by use of an equalization factor, has raised the assessed valuation of your property by 60 per cent. This means that if you paid $200 in real estate taxes this year, at the present tax rate you will pay well over $300 next year.

"Unless YOU, as a property owner join with all other property owners and complain to the Lake County Board of Review," the flyer said.

Attending the plans meeting last Sunday were Art Dahl, Reeve Loomis, Joe Karasek, Charles Bretzer, David Kuiken, Matthew Lau, Mrs. Edward Kostelny and Mrs. Richard Collignon.

Local Student Debates On Tufts U. Team

Peter C. Appleby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Appleby, of Lake Villa, represented the Hamilton College Debate Club in a recent inter-collegiate debate tournament held at Tufts University.

Appleby's negative team won three debates and lost two. Appleby, a senior, is a member of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity.

TODAY'S THE DAY

"Don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today. By then it will probably be banned, restricted, or taxed higher."—The Bridgeport News.

About 80 per cent of Russia's finished steel products is for State use.

Drivers License Revoked

An Antioch driver has had his driver's license withdrawn by the secretary of state on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He is William H. Legg, Rt. 1, Box 365.

TIME TO TRIM the tree for the Christmas party at the Central Baptist Children's Home in Lake Villa. Children of house parents join in the fun with wards of the home. At the top, left of the tree is Billy Hammond, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hammond who live at the home. Then Toby, 10, Bobby, 12, who live with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hanson, Betty Hammond, 5, Lonnie, 9 and Jerry, 10, who round out half of the Hanson group.

DEAR READER News EditorialsAre You Performing?

When you picked up the Antioch News this week for reports of happenings in the lakes area, you automatically assumed a duty as a reader which you probably will shirk.

The duty of the reader is to not only read the news, but to evaluate and form an opinion on it. Then if it will affect your neighbors, it is your obligation to openly tell the other readers.

This newspaper believes in a goal of better understanding between all people and this can not be reached with undercurrent opinions and degrading statements floating around over back fences and coffee. The Antioch News wants to be a useful servant to the communities in the area by letting people express themselves. It is only through a constant exchange of ideas and opinions that we can live closer together.

Phone calls came in last week telling how upset some residents of Antioch's Oakwood Knolls were at the prospect of having to pay for a sewer for their neighborhood. We listened to the callers' complaints about how the Antioch News had stirred up feelings in the area and how the News was wrong in its story.

Callers were asked to write their opinions and comments to the paper which we would be happy to print. Nothing happened. If the News was wrong in printing the story, readers were doubly wrong in not commenting upon it—publically.

The next time your friends begin saying how awful that public official is, or how terrible a job the newspaper did on the story, or how bad this situation is getting to be, ask him if ideas are better. If they are, then they should be in the public print. If not, your friend's comments won't hold water. And don't let yourself slip into this easy trend of living. You're not upholding your duty as a reader for yourself, your friends or for a better newspaper.

Our Christmas Wish:

This joyous season should last forever. That's our sentiments as we see the Christmas time draw to a close. Never, at any other time of the year, does such friendliness and real happiness exist.

Even though some merchants depend upon this season to provide the major support of their business for the entire year, that is OK for some other folks are being made happy through the things they buy.

It is only natural that joy should exist at this season. It was part of the overall plan to enrich our lives by Christ's coming to teach us how to live better and closer to God.

It is too bad that we as mortals are so weak that we can't see clearly the true purpose of Jesus Christ's mission and live according to the example he set.

What a thrill it would be if we could all just lay down our struggle for existence each day and do only the work of the Lord. Did not Jesus in His ministry tell all who asked to give away all they had and follow Him? If we could all do this at one time, there would be no need for working for a worldly existence for it is promised that the Lord would provide.

But at Christmas time, we do come closer to living the kind of life Our Lord wishes us to live and so, weak as we are, we do make a giant step in the right direction.

Every newspaper searches for new ways to wish its readers happiness at this season and the Antioch News is no different. But try as we might, the old words seem always to fit best. So for your wonderful friendship and loyalty to us, please accept this wish for joy and happiness to you this day and always. May Our Lord bless you as he has everyone of us here at the Antioch News.

POST OFFICE PATRON follows the rules—to the letter. It is easier for mailing if you tie Christmas cards in bundles and label them for destination. This patron at Trevor, Wis., "bundled" a single card and labeled it "All For Out of Town Delivery." Just to be sure, Postmistress Florence Dexter prepares to get correct weight to see if enough postage is carried on this "bundle."

Postoffice at Trevor Has Sadness, Joy This Season

The problems of the Post Office are compounded at Christmas.

People try hard to follow the rules, but in most cases the little things that go wrong come at the wrong time.

In small post offices such as at Trevor, Wis., some things have been funny, some perplexing, some almost tragic, says Mrs. Florence Dexter, postmistress.

AT CHRISTMAS it speeds mail service to tie all greeting cards in a bundle and have them sorted for "All Out of Town Delivery" or for "All Local Delivery." People do it pretty well, Mrs. Dexter says, but when the cards are turned all ways, addresses up and addresses down, the post office job is just a little more difficult.

And about the twine used for tying. "A good string is OK," she adds, "but one came in here with such heavy rope we couldn't cut it."

The perplexing things include such things as the two packages the Trevor office doesn't know what to do with. Of course an address is on the packages but there is no postage on them so they're not parcel post. They came on the train but they're not express. So the post office problem is to find out who is to pay for the "freight," and who will collect it, says Frank Mattis, rural carrier at Trevor.

BREAKAGE OF parcels is purely unintentional, Mrs. Dexter says, but sometimes it is tragic, sometimes funny.

"You should have heard the woman who called to ask us to 'please be more careful when you go through my packages from now on.' She thought the Post Office regularly inspected each parcel and left it in a torn condition. It doesn't, Mrs. Dexter says.

At Trevor, lots of publicity has been given the rules for better mailing and so cooperation has been very good, she said.

And turning from Christmas mailing, box rents are due, she added.

Antioch, Wis. Picture Not Funny to Trevor Postmistress

It was no joke making a picture read "Antioch, Wis.," in last week's Antioch News, says Mrs. Florence Dexter, postmistress at Trevor, Wis.

SHE NOW expects a greater amount of mail for the Antioch, Wis., designation. Much mail for Antioch sent through other offices is misaddressed to Wisconsin now. With publication of the doctored picture, that amount may increase, she says.

The picture was taken and altered to illustrate a story on history of this area to show that Antioch could have been a part of Wisconsin except for one man's wisdom in keeping a part of the Lake Michigan shoreline for Illinois.

5 ATHS Musicians Chosen for State Music Festival

Five Antioch High School students have been selected as some of the most talented musicians in the state and will participate in the University of Illinois' All-State Music Activity on Jan. 29-31.

They are Nancy Sreh, soprano; Melody Midgley, alto; Bernard Anderson, tenor and John Sershon, bass; from the high school chorus. From the band is Sonja Pickus, French horn.

The chorus members will join 817 other vocalists to make up the biggest chorus of high school voices in state history. The band will consist of 208 members.

Prof. Paul Painter, supervisor of music extension at the University will head a list of seven conductors who will direct the vocal and instrumental groups.

Governor Sees Growth Problem At No. Illinois U.

Governor Stratton last week got a look at the cramped conditions at Northern Illinois University where enrollment is expected to reach 7,000 in 1959 and 10,000 by 1967.

Chauncey W. Watson, resident member of the Teachers College Board, showed a large map indicating the population areas of the state.

HE POINTED OUT to the governor and members of the legislature that one-third of the population lies in the 21 counties served by Northern Illinois University outside the City of Chicago. The university is a single institution serving one-third of the people of the state while another one-third of those lying in the downstate area are served by five institutions, he said.

The governor and his party toured the NIU library, constructed in 1951 for 2,000 students and now serving 5,647, the university science building and the present student union, all of which are inadequate.

News Trys New Method of Listing Cage Box Scores

Beginning this week, the Antioch News begins a new way of listing basketball box scores. The move was made at the suggestion of Coach Larry Leon at Antioch High School who says the method has met with great favor by other coaches.

Look carefully at the boxes for the Antioch and Salem Central games of last week. You'll find all the names listed in paragraph form with figures following each name. Field Goals, Free Throws and Total points are given for each player and indication made if he fouled out of the game. An example:

JONES, 8-2 (18)* means that Jones scored eight field goals and two freethrows for 18 points total. The asterisk means he committed five fouls also.

This method of listing scores was begun by the Chicago Tribune and has been well received by the paper for saving space and by the players, coaches and readers for giving all the information needed. The Antioch News will run the scores this way for a while would like readers' reactions. However you want them, that's the way they'll be.

Apple Strudel May Solve Holiday Dessert Problems

If you're like many cooks, you're still wondering what you can serve as dessert for the big Christmas dinner.

That no longer needs to be a problem if you start today to fix some of Mrs. George Novotny's traditional-steeped Apple Strudel. For years she has been baking apple strudel like her grandmother and mother baked by stretching it out on a tablecloth.

"Now," says Mrs. Novotny, "I bake this and have given the recipe to many old timers like myself so would like to share it with my neighbors here in Antioch." Mrs. Novotny, Rt. 3, Box 414, Antioch, has lived in Chicago all her life, she says now after spending vacations at Channel Lake, for many years she and her family are now permanent residents.

Here is Mrs. Novotny's favorite recipe which she wants to share with other readers of The Antioch News:

APPLE STRUDEL

2 cups flour
Pinch salt
2 egg yolks
½ cup sweet butter
½ cup cold water

Mix all ingredients together and let stand overnight in refrigerator. In the morning cut in 3 parts.

Roll each part as thin as you can on floured board. Brush with melted butter and add sliced apples. Sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs or cookie crumbs, sugar, cinnamon, raisins and chopped nuts or almond slivers.

Roll up tightly like a jelly roll and put on cookie sheet lined with foil and brush with melted butter.

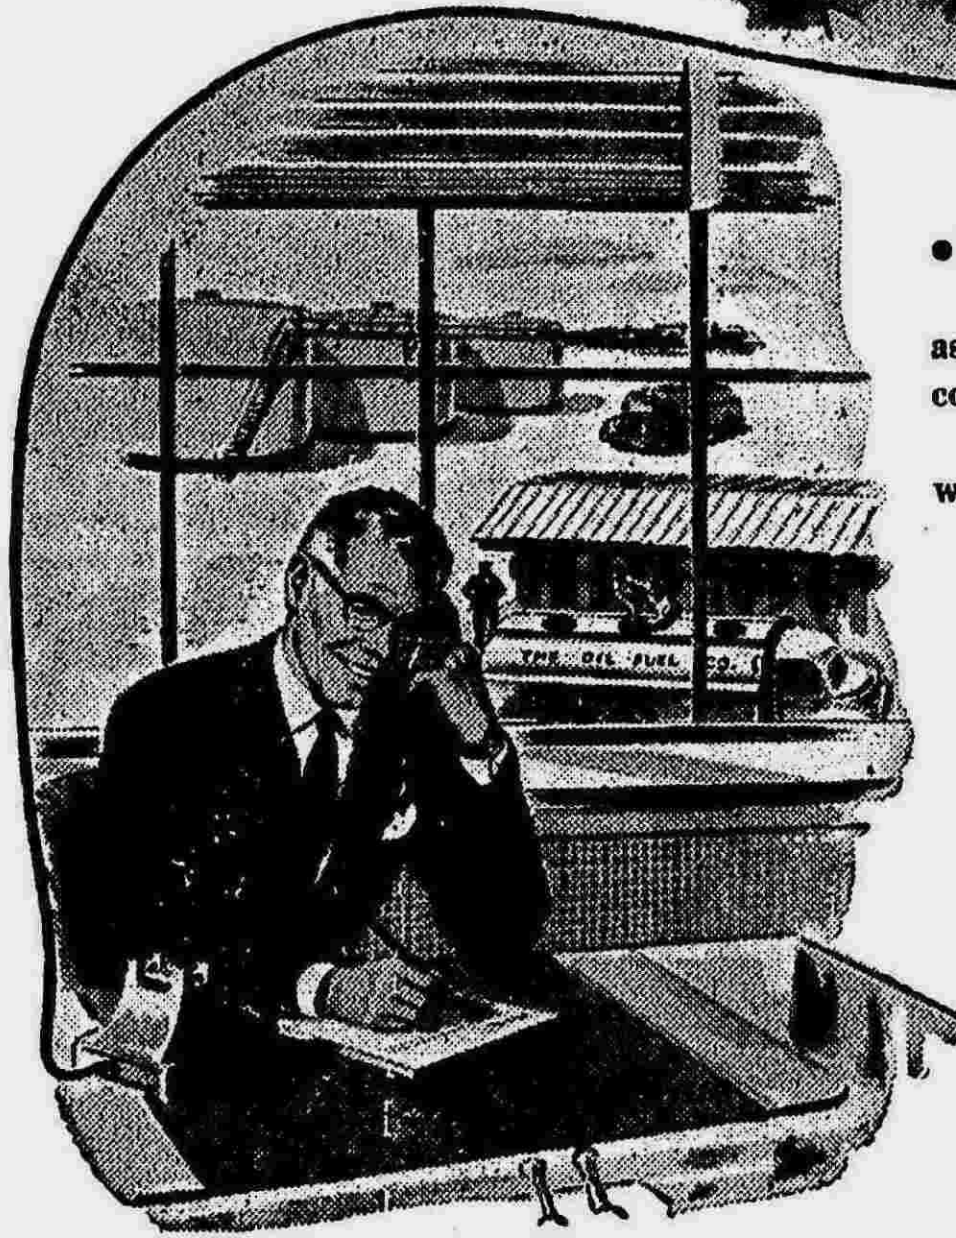

Bake in 375-400° oven for 35 minutes. Baste about 3 times during the baking with melted butter. Cool and serve.

This is enough for 3 strudels. Can also use cottage cheese, poppy seed or prune fillings. You can save one or two parts for baking the next day.

You can participate in this popular feature of the Antioch News and receive your choice of a three-piece carving set or a six-knife steak set just for sharing your favorite recipe.

Each week the News will publish one of the recipes sent in by readers. Winners can pick the set they want by stopping at the News office in downtown Antioch.

Antioch Sailor Can Be Assured Of Having White, White Christmas

Jan A. Berreitter, radioman second class, USN, son of Mrs. Joseph Kloppe of Lake Marie, Antioch, Ill., can be assured of observing a very white Christmas this year with 109 other sailors, scientists and technicians as they celebrate the annual holiday festivities at Little America, Antarctica.

For most of the Navy men it will mean spending the second consecutive Christmas away from their loved ones.

THE COOKS are busy preparing fruit cakes and other dishes for the traditional dinner.

In preparing for Christmas Day, all spare time is devoted to decorating the "Richard E. Byrd Memorial Chapel" with holiday scenes from limited materials available.

In lieu of Christmas shopping and exchange of gifts, a few of the men will be able to communicate with their families and sweethearts by short-wave-radio. An Antarctic amateur radio operator will attempt to contact "ham" radio operators in the U. S. These stateside operators will then place a telephone call to the Navy man's family, resulting in a bit of Christmas cheer over wave-lengths of thousands of miles through space.

If it were not for the radio antennae, metal smoke stacks and towers rising above the snow-covered camp of Little America, the scene would be an endless blanket of white from horizon to horizon. Because of the snow that has covered the roofs of the buildings since they were completed in 1956, the men have to commute from shelter to shelter through tunnels.

Giant Photo Contest Starts

Antioch area photobugs are invited to shoot for a national flash photography contest for amateur camera fans, offering the grand prize winner an all-expense paid, two-week trip to California's Pacific Ocean Park for his entire family. Also included is a $10,000 cash award and a 1959 Ford car.

Entitled "Picture Yourself in a 1959 Ford," the giant contest will begin Jan. 1 and extend through March 15, according to George C. Connor, photolamp sales of Sylvania Lighting products, and Walter J. Cooper, general sales manager of the Ford Division of Ford Motor Company.

MORE THAN 300 additional prizes featured in the contest include identical trips to Pacific Ocean Park for families of the two runners-up, and 1959 Fords for two third-prize winners. Other prizes will be 20 Sylvania television sets, 100 Argus color-slide cameras and 200 Sylvania radios.

"The Sylvania-Ford contest surpasses all previous consumer contests in the history of the photographic industry," Mr. Connor said. "It will be activated in every U. S. community through more than 100,000 Sylvania and Ford dealers, while a multi-million dollar advertising program assures that not a single American family will miss the opportunity of learning contest details."

TO ENTER THE Sylvania-Ford contest, the contestant must forward to Sylvania a flash photograph of himself or his family taken in a 1959 Ford. The photo must be taken with a Sylvania Blue Dot flashbulb, and must be accompanied by a contest entry blank and the trademark from a sleeve of Sylvania flashbulbs.

Entry blanks will be available at local Sylvania dealers after Jan. 1. The photographs may be taken in the showrooms of local Ford dealers where new Fords will be displayed especially for picture-taking purposes.

Entries will be judged on the basis of the story-telling value of the picture, and its originality in expressing the contest theme. Winners will be announced about May 15.

New Gadget Transmits Heart Beat Thru Phone

CHICAGO—A new device that accurately and easily transmits heart sounds and electrocardiograph readings over the telephone "seems to have solved most of the problems" which have interfered with telephone consultations between heart specialists, Dr. E. Grey Diamond, Kansas City, Kan., said.

The five-pound transistorized unit is attached directly to the patient by standard lead wires and placed adjacent to the mouthpiece of the telephone. The electrocardiograph signal is picked up by the phone and no wire connection is needed.

People's Assets Total At Least Trillion Dollars

The American people have assets of at least a trillion dollars, based on estimates of the value of their financial assets made by the Federal Reserve Board in its 1958 Survey of Consumer Finances plus other investments and tangible possessions of individuals.

The Reserve Board valued financial assets of consumers at upwards of $625 billions, and listed other investments and possessions with an indicated value of at least $550 billions. The financial assets were broken down as follows:

ABOUT TWO-FIFTHS of the total, or some $250 billions, in the form of corporate stock.

Approximately one-fifth more, or $125 billions, about equally divided between policyholders' savings through life insurance and debt obligations comprising Federal Government securities (other than U.S. savings bonds), State and local government obligations, corporate bonds, and mortgages.

Savings in life insurance are distinct from the face amount of protection in force which is currently placed at approximately $480 billions.

The remaining two-fifths of financial assets, adding up to some $250 billions, was in the form of liquid assets consisting of currency, checking accounts, savings accounts in banks, shares in savings and loan associations and credit unions, and U. S. savings bonds.

THE RESERVE Board's survey likewise stated that consumers had large sums invested in unincorporated businesses, in homes, farms and other real estate, in pension plans and retirement programs, and in automobiles and other goods.

The Reserve Board makes no estimates of the combined value of these possessions of individuals, but an indication is obtainable from other sources. Based on a study published by the National Bureau of Economic Research, the value of the nation's nonfarm residential structures can be currently estimated at in the neighborhood of $300 billions.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recently placed a value of nearly $170 billions on the farm plant plus inventories, machinery and farm household possessions. And data compiled by the Institute of Life Insurance estimates a total of more than $80 billions accumulated in public and private pension and retirement plans.

THE INDICATIONS thus are that the people's investment in homes and other possessions probably adds up to as much as the estimated value of their financial assets. Of course, there are offsets in the form of debt. The Reserve Board estimates, for example, that the people owed a total of $155 billions in mortgages and other debt at the end of last year.

The Reserve Board's survey is likewise significant in pointing out the wide distribution of assets among the people. The study found that three out of every four spending units held some liquid assets exclusive of other possessions. It added that presumably most of the spending units without liquid assets of the types covered held some currency, and many probably had equities in life insurance policies.

The average "tin" can is over 98 per cent steel.

AND THAT'S CHRISTMAS for another year. Everett Oftedahl, owner of Antioch's Frostee Sno Co. is busily packing away all Christmas items at the completion of a five month season. See story of how Christmas affects Frostee Sno on page 17 of this week's paper.

THESE KIDS CAN have snow the year around. They're Glen, 9, and Laura, 6, children of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Oftedahl, Antioch. This igloo, on their front yard on Rt. 173, is not real snow of course but made with the artificial snow blocks made in daddy's Frostee Sno Co. plant.

Study May Bring More Economical Gas Engine

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa.—More economical gasoline engines may result from a research project by Dr. A. W. Hussman, professor of engineering research, under a grant from the Department of Ordnance, U. S. Army.

The disadvantage of a spark-ignition gasoline engine, Dr. Hussman explains, is that it must operate under all load conditions with almost the same air-fuel ratio. As a result, it is necessary to throttle the air to decrease the engine output and this is a wasteful process and accounts for the poor road economy of our present over-sized car engines.

Still the Horse

WASHINGTON—Though modern machines are taking over work on the farm, horse-pulling contests are still held at fairs across the country. At a Pennsylvania fair, the winning pair of horses pulled a weight equivalent to 20.0 tons for a distance of 24 feet 5 1/2 inches.

Expect 60 To Try For World Ice Boat Title on Fox Lake

Preparations are progressing smoothly for the International Ice Boat Races to be held on Jan. 9-11 at Fox Lake with the Fox Lake Ice Yacht Club as host.

Harry (Bud) Melges, Jr., president of the International Skeeter Assn. and a member of the Skeeter Ice Boat Club of Lake Geneva, Wis., made the announcement from his headquarters at the Waltonian Hotel, Fox Lake.

MORE THAN 60 of the fastest ice boats in the world will race during the 3-day meet, Melges said. There will be four races daily starting at 11 a.m. on Friday.

The skeeter-type ice boats will race in two sections in the morning races. The leading boats in the morning races will compete against each other in the afternoon with the slower boats in the second afternoon session. Final winners are determined by total points during the three days of the meet.

Ice boats should start arriving at Fox Lake about Jan. 5. Craft have been entered from throughout the east and midwest.

Eight local craft will try for honors for the local club representing the world championship won by Ed Rollberg of the Fox Lake Yacht Club in 1949.

Two veterans of world championship ice boat races are women who expect to compete again this year. They are Jean Zwicky, Pewaukee, Wis., and Jane Pagel, Lake Geneva, Wis.

THE RACE IS held on a six-mile windward-leeward course usually with two pylons set a mile apart. The estimated average speed for boats is 60 miles per hour with the world record at 143 miles per hour. The boats have no brakes and can be stopped only by turning into the wind.

Arrangements for the handling and placing of race boats on the ice is being handled by Robert Cave, Wayne, Ill., who will headquarter at the Waltonian Hotel. He also is in charge of welcoming competing ice boat racers. Carl Schilling, Fox Lake, is in charge of housing for the contestants.

Everybody Helps Salem to Win At Clinton, 55-46

Everybody came through in the third quarter to give Salem Central a 55-46 victory at Clinton last week and move the Falcons into a tie for third in the conference.

Center Len Krawczyk continued his scoring spree and ended the game with 17 points for high honors. He was tied with Knutson of Clinton also with 17 markers.

AFTER PLAYING on even terms against a zone defense in the first two periods, the Falcons screamed into the third canto with 22 points and sewed up the game. They added 14 in the last period for good measure.

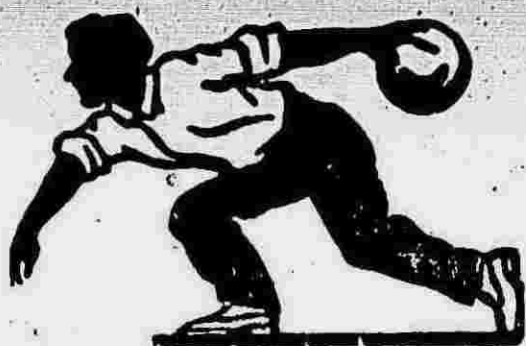

With the victory Salem will take a rest from the court for 17 days before tying into Lake Geneva on Jan. 6. However, during the holidays, the Falcons will be practicing every day on the Salem floor. Passing still is not up to Coach Dorm Grams' expectations. Krawczyk still is showing scoring promise and the teammates are backing him up. As the Centrals pause for rest over the holidays, they look back on play with their new mates in the Southeastern Conference. The won-lost record is about the same as in the larger Braveland league of last year but this doesn't always mean too much says Grams.

The team totals:
Clinton (46): Ross, 8-0 (16); Hurd, 0-2 (2); Knutson, 7-3 (17); Hogan, 3-3 (9); Wimer, 0-0 (0); Bassett, 1-0 (2); Eichman 0-0 (0).
Salem (55): Erickson, 0-0 (0); Lentz, 2-0 (4); Davis, 3-4 (10)*; Krawczyk, 6-5 (17); Neu, 3-3 (9); Schulz, 3-1 (7); Ellis 0-0 (0); Yates, 4-0 (8).
*fouled out.

Score by quarters 1 2 3 4 F
Salem 10 9 22 14 55
Clinton 13 8 13 12 46

The Falcon B team also won 35-33 over the Clinton juniors to even their season record to 3 wins and 3 losses.

Antioch Scouts Prepare Home Game Monday

"THIS BIG ONE didn't get away". That's what John Wiecek of John's River Inn said this week as he returned from a hunting trip in Upper Michigan. Proof of his luck is this picture of the 12-point 200 pound buck. Companion Stanley Wiecek of Stanley's Oakland Resort also got on 8-point, 160 pound deer.

Pregenzer Leads Local Scorers With 284 Points

Winners of their last seven games, Antioch's Scouts are preparing for their only game of the season with Alden of the McHenry County Basketball League. The contest will be next Monday night at 8 p.m. at the Antioch Township High School gym.

Led by Jack Pregenzer, 6' 3" forward, the team will be trying for a second place spot in the fast amateur league. Pregenzer, an amazing artist who controls the backboards and can shoot too, carries a 25 point average in his last six games and 23 for the season. He has scored 284 points. A graduate of Antioch High School in 1951, Pregenzer played ball with Illinois Wesleyan College in 1955.

HE IS FOLLOWED in the scoring derby for the Scouts by Al Reckers, a 1958 graduate of Antioch High School. Al has an 17.8 point average and 214 total points.

Russ Connelly, center at 6' 2", and a graduate of Grant High School, also has shown great scoring promise in the last two games and raised his average to 16 points in the last six games.

The game with Alden is free to the public and all local basketball fans are invited out.

Funds to keep the Scouts playing ball out of Antioch were still increasing some the past week but no figure was available to the Antioch News.

THE LATEST victory by the independent club was a 91 to 52 win over a club from Fox Lake. Last (continued on following page)

Antioch Control Game Fails, Loses to Grant

Antioch's Sequoits started the Grant Bulldogs for the first half by playing controlled basketball but Grant rolled in the second half and won 39-25 on their court last Friday night.

The battle was nip and tuck during the first half. Coach Larry Leon's charges were instructed to wait for a good shot and the first quarter ended 2-2. Antioch took only one shot in the first quarter. Grant took three from the field.

THE HALF ended 11-9 for Grant. After the intermission the Bulldogs went into a press. Norris and Lewis controlled the boards. Grant's Smith got hot from outside and led his team in their 18 point spurge during the third stanza.

By the end of the third period Grant had an 11-point lead, 29-18. Coach Leon said, "Grant is perhaps the best defensive team in the conference this year."

The team totals: Grant—Norris 4-0 (8)*; Pomey 2-0 (4); Bartalette 3-1 (7); Rasmussen 0-1 (1); Smith 5-2 (12); Lewis 1-5 (7).

Antioch—Martin 4-0 (8); Pyles 4-0 (8); Gudgeon 1-1 (3); Magiera 2-1 (5); and Dahlman 1-1 (3).

On Friday, Jan. 2, the Sequoits enter a four-team tournament at Batavia. Ela-Vernon opens at 7 p.m. against Mooseheart and Batavia and Antioch meet at 8:30.

Candles for Christmas

King Alfred the Great, renowned ruler of Britain at the end of the Ninth Century, is supposed to have ordered the making of time-keeping candles. Each candle burned four hours and was marked with twelve 20-minute divisions.

When candles were a main source of illumination, they were sometimes so large that they weighed as much as 300 lbs.!

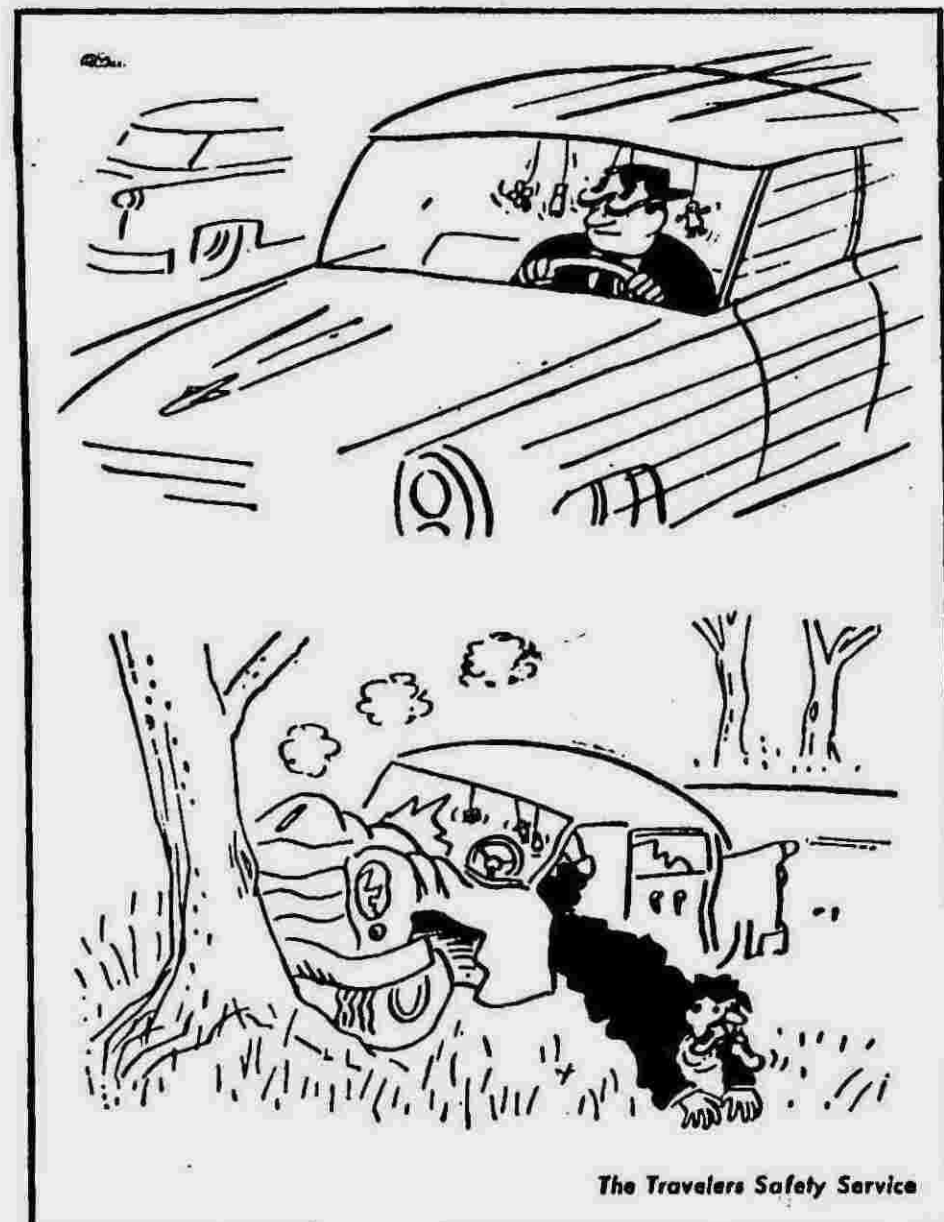

Fortunes were once foretold and futures read in the shapes found in candle drippings. These were said to prophesize life, death, success, and failure. A triangular shape meant success, a tear-shaped drop, sorrow. Today's drippless candles would spell disaster for the fortune tellers of old.

The festively cheerful aspect of candles is

Aliens Must Report Addresses to Govt.

Aliens in the United States will be required to report their addresses to the Attorney General within the near future, says Robert Robinson of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

All aliens, with a few exceptions, who are in the United States on Jan. 1, each must report their addresses by the end of that month. Only the following classes of aliens are excused from this requirement: (1) accredited diplomats; (2) persons accredited to certain international organizations; and (3) those admitted temporarily as agricultural laborers.

Forms with which to make the report can be obtained from any Post Office or Immigration Office during the month of January, Robinson said that the law provides severe penalties for failure to comply with the reporting requirement.
